HOKIE SPIRIT TRIBUTE CONCERT

D.C. Music for Relief will present the "Hokie Spirit Tribute Concert," an all-day event to be held Saturday, April 28, 2007, from 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. at 2121 Crystal Drive (6th Floor, Cabaret and Electric Stages), Crystal City, Virginia. This event will be held in collaboration with Artomatic, the visual and performing arts extravaganza featuring over 600 local independent artists.

Donations collected at the concert stages will go to the Hokie Spirit Memorial Fund, set up under the auspices of Virginia Tech (Virginia Polytechnic Institute) for grief counseling, memorials, communication and comfort expenses, and other needs resulting from the tragedy that occurred at that campus on April 16.

D.C. Music for Relief is a Silver Spring, Maryland-based organization that provides financial and material resources on a not-for-profit basis to victims of disasters by organizing periodic concerts featuring performances voluntarily donated by concerned musicians.

The Hokie Spirit Tribute Concert at Artomatic is located near Metro (Crystal City Station). Free evening and weekend parking is available. Admission to Artomatic is free; donations are encouraged. For directions, see www.artomatic.org.
